Step-by-Step Procedures

Provide concise and clear instructions for each step in the lesson. Please number the steps. Maximum points during judging will be awarded for procedures that include:

- Introduction, anticipatory set, or lead-in
- Descriptions of the sequence of classroom activities with references to the handouts and resources identified above
- Culminating projects
- Assessments

Differentiation for Diverse Learners

Earn bonus points by providing adaptations for GATE, SPED or ELL students.

Student Handouts and Other Files you produce

Provide a list of the files you have created that guide student analysis of resources, provide directions for products students create during this lesson, etc. Maximum points will be awarded for handouts that require critical thinking from the students.

Upload the files separately when you make your submission to the teachers.1990 Institute.org website. Use the following naming convention for all your files:

- Start the file name with last name, first name, a keyword describing your lesson, followed by the real file name, separated by hyphens.
- For this entry form, append "entryform" as the file name. For example:
smith-john-hongkong-entryform.pdf
- For other files, append the appropriate description of the file. For example:
smith-john-hongkong-worksheet.pdf

To avoid distributing viruses to others, please upload all you text files in PDF format.

Resources

Make a list of all the links to online resource that are mentioned in this lesson plan. Maximum points will be awarded for resources that include Chinese perspectives on the topic(s) covered in the lesson. Bonus points will also be awarded for resources from the 1990 Institute Teachers Workshops.

Additional Comments (Optional)

Provide any other supporting information that is relevant to this submission.

Copyright Issues

By submitting your entry, you represent and warrant to The 1990 Institute that the Lesson Plan and all related materials submitted are your intellectual property (e.g., copyright) and that the materials do not infringe the intellectual property of any other person or entity, except the materials listed below:

List of exceptions (if any):

You agree to indemnify and hold harmless the 1990 Institute in the event of any claims that your entry or Lesson Plan materials infringe the intellectual property rights of any other person or entity.
